

Dog Proofing Your Home

Whether you've just adopted an adult dog or a puppy, dog-proofing your home is vitally important to keep your dog, and your personal belongings, safe. We advise anyone bringing a new dog into their home to make sure it is dog-proof first, not JUST adopters of young puppies. Dogs are curious and can get into all sorts of mischief, so taking steps to prevent accidents and protect your belongings is essential. Here's a guide to dog-proofing your home:

Secure Hazardous Items

- Remove or secure toxic plants, chemicals, medications, and cleaning products out of your dog's reach.
- Keep small objects, such as coins, rubber bands, and small toys, off the floor to prevent choking hazards.

Electrical Cords and Outlets

- Use cord protectors or conceal cords to prevent your dog from chewing on them.
- Cover electrical outlets with outlet covers to prevent shocks or burns.

Trash Cans

Use trash cans with secure lids, or keep them in a cabinet with childproof locks to prevent your dog from getting into garbage.

Household Items

- Put away shoes, clothing, and other items your dog might chew on.
- Keep remote controls, glasses, and other small objects out of your dog's reach.

Furniture and Belongings

- Protect your furniture from chewing by using pet-friendly sprays or covers.
- Use baby gates to block access to certain rooms or areas.

Keep Food Secure

- Store human and pet food in a place that your dog cannot access.
- Be cautious with foods that are toxic to dogs, like chocolate, grapes, and onions.

Garage and Yard

- Secure garage or outdoor areas that might contain chemicals, tools, or hazards.
- Ensure your yard is securely fenced to prevent your dog from wandering off.

Stairs and Balconies (Younger Puppy Focused)

- Install baby gates at the top and bottom of stairs to prevent falls.

- Make sure balcony railings are close enough together that your dog can't slip through.

Cords and Strings

Keep window blind cords, yarn, and other strings out of reach to avoid strangulation hazards.

Toilet Bowls

Keep toilet lids down to prevent your dog from drinking or falling into the bowl.

Houseplants

Remove toxic plants or place them out of reach. Some common toxic plants include poinsettias, philodendrons, and lilies.

Shut Doors

Close doors to rooms or areas you want to keep your dog out of, like the home office or laundry room.

Never leave your young puppy or newly adopted dog unsupervised when they're not confined to a dog-proofed area. Remember that dog-proofing is not a one-time task but an ongoing process. Regularly evaluate your home for new hazards and adjust your dog-proofing efforts accordingly.
